A Warning to Others

Somerset, Pa., May 15.—Simon P. Sweitzer, a widely known and wealthy Somerset distiller, instituted a suit today against the recorder of deeds, John G. Emert, to recover 90 cents, which he alleges he was overcharged by Emert for a deed placed on record. The plaintiff also demands that the recorder be fined $50 under the act of 1873, which provides such penalty for violations of the fee bill act of 1868.

The Sweitzer suit will attract unusual interest for the reason that, should Sweitzer win, Emert would be subject to hundreds of similar actions and would probably be compelled to disgorge $1000, as the office rate at present for the smallest deed is $2.50.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Interesting Communication From Correspondent at National Capital.

Washington, D. C., May 15.—Everybody thinks around the Capital of the United States that Mr. Roosevelt is going to be nominated President, simply because he has won a few states that had primary elections, and that, therefore, he is the choice of the people of this country in the Republican party. There never was a greater mistake in the world.

I still stick to my prediction that Taft is going to be nominated, nevertheless and notwithstanding. The people of the country do not seem to understand that in the Republican National Convention, it only requires a majority vote to nominate and that the Republican National Committee passes on all contested election cases.

The Republican National Committee is largely in favor of Taft, therefore, the National Republican Committee will decide all contests in favor of Taft, that will nominate him hands down.

The Democratic situation, from a Presidential standpoint, is rapidly being clarified. The rapid advance by the Hon. Champ Clark in acquiring delegates from all over the country, practically eliminates several prominent candidates from the Democratic squabble and puts them in the also ran class.

The success of Mr. Clark has actually amazed all of the old fashioned politicians in Washington. Knowing as they do that he didn't start until the middle of February and has outdistanced both of his leading competitors, who have had their campaign headquarters, sending out literature since last September, they can only come to the conclusion that the Democrats of the country have made up their minds

Important to all Women
 Readers of this Paper
 Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.
 Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.
 If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.
 You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.
 Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.
 But thousands of irritable, nervous, tired and broken-down women have restored their health and strength by the use of Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.
 Swamp-Root brings new life and activity to the kidneys, the cause of such troubles.
 Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, may address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and receive a sample bottle free by mail. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

DOUBT CANNOT EXIST
 Investigation Will Only Strengthen the Proof We Give in Bedford.
 How can doubt exist in the face of such evidence? Read here the endorsement of a representative citizen of Bedford.
 Mrs. William Trout, 202 Spring St., Bedford, Pa., says: "It would be almost impossible to fully describe how intensely I suffered from kidney trouble. I had nearly all the symptoms that accompany a bad case of this disease. My back was extremely painful and I often had dizzy spells, during which spots appeared before my eyes. Finally my ankles and limbs became swollen and my condition caused me much alarm. When my son procured a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills for me at John R. Bull's Drug Store, I began their use and they did me more good than all the other medicines I had taken put together. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for restoring me to good health." (Statement given October 14, 1907.)
Re-Endorsement
 Mrs. Trout was interviewed on November 13, 1909, and she said: "It gives me pleasure to again recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I have taken them occasionally during the past two years with good results and they have also been used by other members of the family with success." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
 Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. May 10-2t.

$3.50 RECIPE FREE, FOR WEAK MEN

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have it Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, falling memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3584 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

Minimum Mending If You Buy Here

A lot of "know how" goes into the buying of hosiery for this store. That is the explanation of the better goods we have to sell.

Do you know about hosiery yarns and textures and dyes? It takes an expert to sift wheat from the chaff when it comes to hosiery, and it is expert service that we offer the person who purchases here.

Only the best goods on the market go into our stock, not the most expensive but the best VALUES.

Here are some of them

White, Tan and Black Silk Hose, 50c to $1.25

Dr. S. H. Enderson, the widely known specialist of Pittsburgh, Pa., 440 Sixth Avenue, has thoroughly tested the action of Foley Kidney Pills and after eight months of the closest investigation, reports, "Foley Kidney Pills are the best I have ever used. They clear away the uric acid and albuminous sediment, allay the spasmodic action of the neck of the bladder, also the tenesmus, and in fact renovate the kidneys. I speak thus knowing the action of Foley Kidney Pills, as I have given them a good test." They cure backache, rheumatism, and all kidney and bladder ailments. Give them a trial. Ed. D. Heckerman.

The Telephone in Planting Time

In the early Spring, when the plowing, the cultivating and the sowing are going on, telephone on the farm will work wonders for you.

If there are hands to hire, fertilizers or seeds to buy, new parts for the farm machinery to order—the telephone will get them for you in double-quick time. It will serve a hundred purposes with tremendous savings in energy, time and trouble.

If you're not convinced, write this very evening for our new booklet "What Uncle Sam Says about the Rural Telephone." It's free and it's mighty interesting.

WITH OR WITHOUT THE COMMAS

The President (,) says the Colonel (,) is unfit for the position he seeks.

CLEAN-UP DAY

The purpose of fixing a Clean-up Day is dual; first to beautify the town in general and the individual properties, and secondly but more important, to improve the health conditions of the community. This is a work that requires the assistance of all property owners and tenants; a few individuals cannot accomplish the desired end—health and beauty.

It is poor economy to save rubbish; last year's tomato vines will bear no fruit and one tomato can will suffice for a bait box; let all the others go. A carefully-guarded little fire will reduce old vines and wood to the elements and the wagons will take care of the old cans. Be ready at the appointed time; Monday is the day for the completion of the work.

ONE THING LACKING

While the eulogies now being pronounced upon each other by the President and the Colonel are interesting in the extreme the nation is somewhat disappointed that each has not told what a glorious (?) part the other played in the purchase of the canal zone; it is not fair that William Nelson Cromwell should have all the honor.

POLITICS IN OHIO

The political caldron in Ohio is boiling over and the steam is scalding the fingers of some of those engaged in the disgraceful campaigning.

That an Ex-President and an acting President of the United States should engage in such a debasing campaign of personalities as is now being waged in the Buckeye State is to be regretted, it is far beneath the dignity of the office the one has held and the other is now holding, and if one-half of what they have said and are now saying about each other is true it would be a lasting stigma upon the judgment of the voters of the nation should they, with full knowledge of what they are doing, permit the President to succeed himself or break the time-honored third-term custom and return the African hunter to Washington.

But all the objectionable features of the campaign for nominations in the sister state are not attributable to the President and the Colonel. It is to be regretted that William J. Bryan should regard it as his duty to use his influence to take from Governor Harmon the Democratic delegates to the Baltimore convention. One objection presented to Judge Harmon is the fact that he was a member of the Cabinet of Grover Cleveland, which however, is not looked upon as an objection by thousands, yes tens of thousands of well-balanced men in all parties. If the silver issue was dead when Mr. Bryan himself was a candidate the last time for President, it is strange that the corpse should come to life after a number of years when someone else is a candidate for a nomination.

Whether or not Governor Harmon receives favorable consideration at the hands of the Baltimore convention it will remain to his credit that he has conducted himself as a statesman and an American during the campaign, which conduct shows the size of the man when viewed in comparison, and his record as Governor of Ohio as well as what he did as a cabinet officer will ever be a credit to him and to his state.

Wait Paint

There are painters and waiters. Which am I going to do? Paint or wait?

Which is better? How much am I worth with my property waiting? How much if I paint? Will my house be worth more or less if I paint?

Say it costs $2.25 a gallon Devoe—I wouldn't paint any other—and $3 or $4 more for putting it on. That's $50 or $60 a 10-gallon job.

The money is gone. Is it in the house? Is it all in the house? Suppose I were selling; what should I get for that house fresh-painted and what should I get for it needing paint?

I wonder why men paint before selling!

DEVOE

Metzger Hardware and House Furnishing Company sells it.

W. E. McCleary, who for six years has been the genial proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, has leased his house and will move to Delta, York County, Pa., Monday, where he will have charge of a large hotel on the main thoroughfare between York and Baltimore. One striking feature of the town is the fact that one-half of it is in Maryland and the other half in Pennsylvania—the Maryland address being Cornif. Hyndman will indeed be sorry to see Mr. McCleary and his wife leave, as it has been proud of the reputation the Commercial has always held and which was more than sustained by Mr. McCleary. Traveling men are unanimous in declaring the Commercial the best hotel between Baltimore and Pittsburgh, where everything was orderly, clean and inviting and the cuisine being second to none. Mr. McCleary leaves with our best wishes for success in the new field he is entering.

Ages of the Earth.

A French Scientist informs us that the earth may be 700,000,000 years old, although other scientists have never dared to estimate the age of our planet at more than 100,000,000 years. We would become vitally interested in this matter if it were not for the fact that it would be as hard as ever to stay in the earth, even if we were to establish proof of the correctness of the French scientist's estimate.

The Woman Who Acts Naturally. Women who are not anxious about the effect they produce, women who act naturally, have a wonderful advantage over the self-conscious—those who are either vain or their beauty or disfigurement on account of their lack of it. All this takes away from their natural charm, their understanding, their sympathy. Many people expend so much sympathy on themselves that they have none to spare for any one else.

There will be preaching at Round Knob Saturday, May 18.

MY LITTLE SISTER

By EDWARD L. SPENCER

I was brought up in luxury, but without father, mother, brother or sister. When I became six years old and was still kept from going about with other boys nature rebelled against not having playmates, and those who were responsible for me were obliged to make some provision in that direction.

I lived in the house in which I was born, my father having died before and my mother at the time of my birth. I knew nothing about this, being taken care of by a Mrs. Perkins. One day she brought into my playroom a girl about my own age and told me she had a little sister for me. At that age I felt no great surprise as to the existence of a sister, though I remember asking some questions as to why I had never seen her before. I would have preferred a brother, but was nevertheless delighted to be relieved of my loneliness, and from that time forward my life was very different from what it had been.

Lucy was my sister's name, and since we were kept from other children we grew very much attached to each other. I was a fiery little fellow, while Lucy was of the quiescent kind. She was always soothing me. There was a good deal of the boy in me or I might have become effeminate, playing as I did all the while with a girl. I think I did not miss boy associates as much as I would had I not become so much attached to Lucy.

The reason why I was kept so close at home was my mother, knowing that she must leave me to the care of others, had manifested to Mrs. Perkins, who was to bring me up, a fear that I would learn "badness" from my associates, which she, my mother, would not be with me to counteract. Had it not been for a strong masculine nature in me I would have been spoiled as a result of this motherly timidity. Mrs. Perkins engaged tutors for me and for Lucy as well, and being educated alone, when we were fifteen years old we knew as little about the world as when we had been just brought together.

It was at this time that Lucy and I began to discuss our situation. Why was it that we had no parents like other children? Why had we never met till we were about six years old? These and other similar questions came up for discussion, and we asked Mrs. Perkins for answers to them. But she evaded giving direct answers, and we were no wiser than we were before. All we could get out of her was, "When you come of age you will know all about it."

When I was in my sixteenth year I was sent to boarding school, where I prepared for college, Lucy being sent at the same time to a girls' seminary. I was dreadfully homesick for Lucy, and she wrote me that she suffered the same for me. During my stay at school there was no one to tell me anything about myself more than I knew. Two years after that I went to college, and the period in which I was born over which seemed to hang a veil began to interest me. I was old enough to make an investigation, but when Mrs. Perkins said I would know all about it when I was twenty-one I preferred to wait. One thing especially deterred me, a dread lest I should find out some thing I would rather not know.

While I was at college Lucy discovered what was being kept from us, but she did not tell me. I came home one vacation during my senior year at college and met her there. I threw my arms about her and kissed her, as I had been accustomed to do at our meetings, and was surprised to see a blush on her cheeks. I wondered at the time what it meant, but it soon passed out of my mind.

However, from this time I noticed a great change in Lucy's treatment of me. She seemed constrained. I was telling her one day of a girl friend of mine who I liked very much. Lucy looked serious. I persisted in sounding my friend's praises, and Lucy suddenly got up to leave the room. I caught her and, pulling her down beside me, told her that she need not fear for my deserting her for a sweetheart or a wife, for I would never marry and did not see how I could bear to have her marry. This seemed to satisfy her, and she smiled at me through her tears.

I was twenty-one years old a month after being graduated from college. A lawyer had notified me that he would call on me on my birthday, and he did so. Lucy and I were both at home. The lawyer said he wished to see us together and told the secret. My past or most of it has been told. Lucy's was as follows:

Her father died when she was two years old and her mother when she was three. Our mothers were sisters enjoying an undivided fortune. They had arranged that we should be brought up together and for each other. The fact of our being kept in ignorance that we were cousins was thus in the beginning of our intimacy Mrs. Perkins had told me she had a little sister for me. She thought nothing of it at the time, but put off telling us the truth till we had grown to an age at which she did not like to disabuse our minds. Besides this, she thought the plan of our mothers to unite us when we came of age would be best served by our being kept in ignorance of the truth.

The will of my mother and of Lucy's mother expressed a wish that we should marry.

And we did.

There are people in this town who unthinkingly neglect a "mere cold" though they would not otherwise expose their children or themselves to danger. Yet a cold neglected may develop into contagious diphtheria, bronchitis, or pneumonia. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly for it stops coughs quickly and cures colds. It contains no opiates and is safe for children. Ed. D. Heckerman.
Readers of Mr. Mason's serial "The Turnstile," which concludes in the June Scribner, will find perhaps in the hero Rames something of Shackleton and something of Scott, the Antarctic explorers, and also a good deal of Mr. Mason himself on the side of his Parliamentary experiences.
Awful Possibility.
"De only objection to lettin' de la-ies vote," said Uncle Eben, "is dat dey's liable to require special hats oh election days, same as Easter."

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

FOR A CHILDREN'S PARTY.

By Martha McCulloch Williams. Suppose you try giving the children a paper-bag cooked party. On such an occasion, the paper bag comes gaily into its kingdom. Not the used bag, but one holding something cooked in another bag, or else roguishly am-bushing a gift.

For such ambushing, splotch bags liberally with color or else decorate them with gilt and silver stars, pasted on the sides, and tie their necks with gay ribbon, putting inside a ruffle of fringed crepe paper matching the ribbon-color.

Edibles, of course, must be bagged very shortly before being distributed. Iced tartlets, small pretty fancy cakes, nuts, raisins, bits of crystallized fruit, all make admirable fillings.

What manner of sweets, fruits, candies, nuts, etc., appear must depend, of course, upon the hostess. She will not err if the candies are largely home-made and plentifully reinforced with fresh fruit and good cake. Nuts are essential, but should not be eaten too liberally. The best preventive of such excess is a satisfying menu. Here is one that should appeal to hungry young creatures, yet do them no sort of harm.

Hot Chocolate or Cocoa with Whipped Cream

Hot Chicken Biscuit

Hot Sweet Potato Biscuit

Homemade Candy Salted Peanuts

Mince Turnovers

Pound Cake Icecream Sandwiches

Fruit and Nuts

Make chocolate as you like; but have plenty of hot-milk, also boiling water, at hand, so it can be varied to suit individual tastes.

For the chicken biscuit begin by roasting a fine fat chicken, duly washed and trussed, greased all over and bacon-covered on the breast. Do not stuff it, but put inside half a dozen stalks of celery and a peeled and quartered apple. Lay a few more stalks of celery in the bag, which needs a small lump of butter in addition to thick greasing, seal, and cook done, taking care the bag does not break. Remove carefully from the bag, and while still hot, mince the meat as fine as you can, mincing also the apple and celery, which will be cooked very soft. Taste. If the light seasoning which the chicken had is insufficient, add more salt and a bare dusting of pepper, red and black. Pour upon the minced mass the gravy from the bag, add a very little more butter and a spoonful or so of cream, mix well, put in a fresh well-greased bag and heat for five minutes. Take up and put by spoonfuls, rather scant ones, between hot biscuit, which have been rolled thin and baked double, after brushing over the lower one with melted butter. Keep hot inside a bag, in the hot stove where the flame is out, until needed.

For sweet potato biscuit, boil soft a quart of sound potatoes and peel and mash fine while hot, taking out all lumps and strings. Mix with its own bulk of flour sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder. Shorten well with butter, wet up rather stiff with sweet milk, roll out, cut in small rounds and bake in a greased bag with a tiny hole in the upper side. Fifteen minutes ought to be long enough.

Mince turnovers, which explain themselves, must be very small. Make the original round of paste about four inches across. Put only a teaspoonful of mince meat upon it, fold it over very neatly and pinch the edges well together. Flatten and cook inside a buttered bag.

For the icecream sandwiches, cut very thin slices from a thick loaf of pound cake, frost the slices upon one side and lay them together, two and two, naked sides touching. At serving time, cut a very thin slice of icecream, lay it deftly between two of the frosted cake slices, and pass on to be eaten at once.

This second menu may please some households better. It is suited to afternoon serving, rather than evening. Peanut Brown Bread Sandwiches Cider Cup or Tea-Lemonade Oyster Patties or Mince Chicken Turnovers

Bread and Butter Sandwiches Clear Broth, Small Cups Sliced Oranges with Frosted Individual Sponge Cakes

Fruit Nuts Candy Directions have been given for cider cup and tea-emonade. Roast and grind the peanuts, season lightly with salt and mix with either melted butter or a very mild French dressing to a rather stiff paste. Spread between very thin slices of buttered brown bread and keep moist until wanted.

For oyster patties, bake shells of puff paste inside paper bags, cool, and fill with oysters prepared as for oyster sandwiches. Prepare chicken as for the chicken biscuit, but bake it in tiny turnovers. Boil the bones of it with a little fresh celery and a sliced tomato to make the broth.

Cut the oranges carefully around, remove the peel in two sections and notch the edges of each, thus making pretty cups. Slice the fruit thin, taking away strings and white pithy rind, arrange in the cups, covered with sugar, put a little shredded crystallized ginger on top and keep cool till wanted.

Bake the sponge cake in a square shallow mould. Let it get cold, cut in small squares, frost with tinted icing and serve in a basket lined with white crepe paper frills.

PARTY MENUS.

By Martha McCulloch Williams. So many letters have asked for menus suitable throughout for cooking in paper bags that here follow several, each suitable for a party dinner. Direction for cooking more than half their component parts have already been printed.

If you feel that you must begin your party feast with raw oysters, take them straight—from the half-shell. If the half-shell way cumbrous you, serve the oysters in cocktails.

If your oysters must be hot, put them in a paper bag after draining them well, add a generous lump of butter for each dozen of the oysters, a dusting of pepper and a little salt. Seal the bag, which must be thickly buttered, and cook for six minutes inside a very hot oven.

Here is my ideal paper bag cooked dinner for six.

Grapefruit au Rhum
Olives Warned in Sherry
Salted Pecans
Spiced Plums Celery Apple or Cranberry Sauce
Roast Turkey Raisin Stuffing
Gravy from the Bag
Endive Salad Sharp French Dressing
Sweet Potatoes in Syrup
Cauliflower au Gratin
Mince Pie Sweet Potato Custard
Fruit and Nuts in Variety
Black Coffee Wafers, Cheesed or Plain with Pimento Cheese

Here is a Christmas dinner for hearty appetites:

Oysters, Bag, Stewed and Served in Separate Bags
Celery Toasted Crackers
Quartered Lemons
Salted Peanuts Radishes Sharp Pickle
Roast Goose, Apple and Onion Stuffing
Baked Spanish Onions
Baked Irish Potatoes White Turnips
Apple Sauce Cucumber Catsup
Hot Corn Bread
Cold Slaw Botted Dressing
Pimento Sandwiches Water Waters
Pumpkin Pie Banana Pie
Pound Cake Caramel Cake
Nuts and Raisins
Coffee in large cups Sweet Cider
Water Waters Dried Beef Crisped in a Pan

Beef thus crisped till it crackles in the teeth is wonderfully relished at the end of a heavy dinner. It gives the saving tang of salt that is so refreshing. A very little—a mere mouthful, suffices. Put it thinly in a clean pan, with a tiny dot of butter, set the pan in the oven after the fire is out, but while there is still heat, shut the door and leave till wanted. The beef can be crisped over a low flame, of course, if the oven is wanted for other use. Make the waters also hot and crisp.

To make pimento sandwiches, mince half a can of pimentos, rub them well through a cake of the best cream cheese, adding enough French dressing to make the mixture spread smooth on the buttered bread. Few better accompaniments for any sort of salad can be found.

Peel and slice your turnips and put them in a well greased bag with a light seasoning of salt, a lump of butter barely dusted with flour, and enough thin stock to half cover them. Seal and cook in a gentle heat fifty minutes to an hour and a quarter, depending on the size of the bag. Empty into hot dish and if not rich enough add more butter, dust with black pepper, and, if approved, add a little vinegar. Mashing is optional.

Oyster Broth
Hot Oyster Sandwiches
Brown Bread Celery
Salted Peanuts Radishes
Fresh Ham, Stuffed and Roasted
Sweet Potatoes cooked in the Ham-bag
Cabbage Pudding
Baked Onions Baked Apples
Baked Potatoes
Prune Whip (entree)
Romaine Salad, Sour Cream Dressing
Hot Biscuit
Ginger Pudding, Lemon Sauce, Fruit and Nuts
Coffee in large cups Ale Cider

Drain the liquor from the oysters, strain it, add to it its own bulk of rich milk, and if the quantity is insufficient half its own bulk of good stock. Add a lump of butter rolled in flour, season with salt and pepper, and make very hot, but do not let it quite boil. Stir so the broth shall not curdle. Pour into a hot tureen, already furnished with tiny squares of hot toasted stale bread or crisped oyster crackers.

For the sandwiches make a light, rich biscuit dough, cut it in four-inch squares, bake them quickly, split while very hot, and fill after buttering with the oysters which have been bearded, chopped well, and made very hot in a bag with butter cream, a dash of cherry or lemon juice or cider, seasoned lightly with salt and pepper and cooked for three to five minutes. Serve as quickly as possible along with the broth. Finely minced celery mixed with the oysters improves them.

For sour cream dressing beat until very light two yolks of egg with a pinch of salt, a dust of pepper and a little paprika. Then add half a cup of thick sour cream and cook over hot water, stirring hard all the time for five minutes. Add a heaping tablespoonful of butter, a tablespoonful of lemon juice and two of vinegar. Cook smooth, stirring hard. Use cold.

Tobacco by the Yard. On Saturday afternoons in the Port Antonio market, on the island of Jamaica, a dozen or more negroes may be seen selling "rope" tobacco by the yard. It is smoked by the natives, and derives its name from the fact that it is twisted and put up in coils like rope, 200 yards to the coil.

THE FAN WHO GETS

North American Baseball Edition Starts Season Right.

Every baseball fan, whether rooter for big league team or member or partisan of minor league club, school or college, amateur or semiprofessional team, should see The North American's annual baseball supplement, which appears next Sunday, May 19.

As usual, it mirrors the entire field. Everything is there.

The front and back pages are in color, superb illustrations. James C. Isaminger, The North American's baseball humorist, writes a story on superstitions of the ball players, which is admirably illustrated by Cartoonist Hoban.

Sporting Editor George M. Graham contributes an article on dramatic drives that have made ballplayers famous, with a striking full-page picture of "Home Run" Baker.

National, American and Tristate batting and fielding averages, with a page which gives the photograph of every player in the Tristate League, are other important features.

Ross E. Kauffman has covered the school and college field in detail, with many photographs and accounts of the work of various nines. The lineup of hundreds of state, minor league and independent clubs contains valuable information.

With something like 300 local line-ups in full, with names and addresses of managers and ages of players, the two pages about activities of Philadelphia teams become a valuable directory.

Previous editions have always been oversold. Be on the safe side and order now.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Uses or vanity.

An excess of vanity brings ridicule upon its possessor, just as an utter lack of it inspires contempt in the beholder. Of the two, ridicule is the least harmful; moreover, the object of jibes and jests always possesses the power to modify and refine excessive vanity into wholesome, elevating pride.

World's Finest Natural Bridge.

Only 25 white men, it is said, have as yet beheld the most remarkable natural bridge in the world—the Rainbow Bridge of southern Utah—compared with which the famous natural bridge of Virginia is almost insignificant. The Rainbow bridge is 309 feet high and has a span of 278 feet. The Virginia bridge has a span of only 41 feet and is 200 feet high. The Rainbow bridge arch exceeds the length of the longest masonry arch in the world by 65 feet.

Another Reason.

An amusing story is told of Edmund Kean, who, one night, played Othello with more than his usual intensity. An admirer who met him on the street next day, was loud in his congratulations: "I really thought you would choke Iago, Mr. Kean; you seemed so tremendously in earnest." "In earnest?" said the tragedian. "I should think so. Hang the fellow! He was trying to keep me out of the focus."

Unhurt by Long Fall.

A fall from a second-story window of her house in Philadelphia did little more than jar an aged lady the other day. When members of the family reached her side they found that she had sustained only a few bruises. A doctor said no bones were broken, and that she would be about again in a day or so. She was leaning from the bathroom window when she lost her balance and fell to the yard.

British Moving Picture Theaters.

There are now over 4,000 moving picture theaters in Great Britain and Ireland. Fully $5,000,000 is said to be invested in the provision and working of balls alone, and over 32,000 people are employed. This leaves out of account the development of auxiliary branches of the industry. A total of 2,000,000 people represents approximately the daily audience of these picture shows.

The postmaster at Barnegat, N. J., R. G. Collins, had a severe lagrippe cough that was very exhausting, and says: "Half a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured that cough entirely. It can't be beat." Contains no opiates. Safe for children. Ed. D. Heckerman.

THE BUFF COCHIN.

Boarders are expert at tracing every tough hen back to Noah's ark, but we can trace the Cochin back only 1,500 years. Yet that's going some.

Cochins originated in China, are related to the Brahmas, Chittagongs and Javas, are the oldest known race of fowls and are bred in Buff, Partridge, Black and White, called in England in 1853 Lemon, Partridge, Black and White Shanghais. They reached England in 1840, were brought thence to America and were advertised to be as large as an ostrich and able to lay three eggs a day.

The word "shanghaied" was then invented, because so many were gold bricked into buying them. Queen Victoria was caught by the craze. She sent to China for two cockerels and five pullets, and when one of the roosters died she had the darling stuffed and placed in a glass case.

The Buff is most popular in China. Chinks call it "the gold flower bird." Indeed, most of China's fowls are buff, the Buff Cochin being indigenous to temperate and south China.

The originals were cinnamon buff. English fanciers making their ideal long in leg, flat breasted, with culture hocks and fanlike leg feathering.

golden buff and made the ideal a bird of curves with short legs, full soft fluff and hock, broad back, full breast, forward carriage, the shanks covered front and outside, middle and outer toe covered and thigh, plumage and foot feathering as one.

The Buff Cochins are the foundation color of all the buff breeds, are extremely profuse in feathering equal in softness to that of goose and swan.

They are perfectly contented in confinement, fly, scratch and walk but little and are great hatchers, eaters and easy to fatten. They are not extra layers, but oh you mellow big drum stick! Cochin breeds are dubbed the "beef trust." When they butcher they sure have meat.

DON'TS.

Don't be careless. This is the chief trait of the ne'er-do-well. If you have so many irons in the fire that you can't attend to them all, drop some or you'll burn your fingers.

Don't imagine that good feed fed scientifically will change a call into a phenomenal layer, and don't expect to put layers of juicy flesh on a narrow backed, hollow chested, long legged, rubberneck bird.

Don't fail to keep the incubator lamp in perfect condition. This is one of the seeming small things that is immensely great. On the condition of that lamp depends the safety of your property, your family and the success of the hatch.

Blackwelder & Pepple, Bedford, Pa.

Gentlemen:—

I began using the Ford Runabout I purchased from you to carry mail on a 25 mile R. F. D. Route out of this town about April 1st. I have run my machine over one thousand miles and it has given excellent satisfaction.

I have a very rough and heavy-grade road to travel over and it requires only about three hours to make my daily 25 mile trip. I have had no tire trouble at all.

Yours very truly,

HECKERMAN LETTER

P-Nut Salesman Visits Flood City—
Calls on Former Bedfordite.

Johnstown, Pa., May 14.
I am now at the Capital Hotel in Johnstown. This hotel has been owned and run, as a hotel, by the present owner, P. L. Carpenter, for twenty-one years. Twenty-three years ago this building withstood the great flood. At that time it was a club house. Just after the flood, Mr. Carpenter purchased the building and converted it into a hotel. Its popularity was assured from the first, as there are very few men who can manage a hotel as Mr. Carpenter, whose house is the home of nine-tenths of all the traveling men who visit Johnstown. Everything is so clean and so homelike that we all like to go to Pete's to feed and sleep. To those who claim that one cannot run a hotel and make money without license, I refer them to Mr. Carpenter, who has never had license and never asked for one. He has made a little mint of money feeding and housing those who apply and look as if they were sober. To insure getting a room, I advise all to write, wire or phone for reservation. This, I think, is the only hotel in the state that has a branch post office in it. Of course, this one thing, the act of Uncle Sam, in placing a postoffice in this hotel speaks more in the interest of the hotel than I can.

Charlie Bowers called with his auto this evening and took me for a ride to see Johnstown. He brought Rev. Mickling, the Reformed minister, with him. This was very kind of Mr. Bowers, who left Bedford thirty years ago and settled here. Then he was a little boy. Today he is a little man in stature yet a very big man in brains, at least his employers say so. Many of your readers will remember Charlie, as the boy G. R. Oster, the merchant prince of Bedford forty years ago, took under his guardian care and taught the business as it was conducted by the country merchant in those days. When big signs were hung up about the store reading, "If you don't see what you want, ask for it," and another, "We sell three kinds of 'lasses' out of one barrel," Charlie, with his education as received from Mr. Oster, came here and has been very successful ever since. We did not go at breakneck speed, but moved along slowly and the writer was shown many beautiful homes.

The Conemaugh Hospital which was erected about twenty years ago with the money left over from the subscriptions of those good big-hearted yeomen and others to accommodate the Johnstown sufferers, is a very handsome building and has about two hundred patients at all times. The buildings now cover nearly two acres. The home of John Grazier is also a very handsome place. Many Bedford County boys and girls live here and I have only good to report of all. The stock that moves from Bedford County always makes a record and I am proud to say that it stands above par.

When will you have a special meeting of the council to give out the contract of paving Pitt Street?

Please send me the paper to Seventh Avenue Hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Yours truly,

M. P. Heckerman.

Cutting Back Frozen Peach Trees

One of the most experienced orchardists and nurserymen in Pennsylvania wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface of Harrisburg asking what should be done with peach trees of which he sent a sample of wood. They were so badly frozen that they were brown when freshly cut. Thousands of peach growers this year need information which was given, and which was as follows:

"The wood is too badly frozen to recover unless it is cut back well. I should cut at least two-thirds of the top out of such a tree, but I should not cut it so that it is cut to mere stubs without buds. I mean to say, that I would leave branches with their full bud length, rather than dehorning all of them to stugs. Leave some leaf buds on your trees to start the sap going. When you cut out a tall branch make the cut just above a living side branch upon which good strong leaf buds are to be found.

"The strongest leaf buds of your peach tree will start and grow, just as they would develop if the twigs were cut off and placed in water, but they are liable to die during the summer, because the cambium layer of the twigs, which is the vital means of connection between bud and root, is killed by this freezing. The important point to bear in mind in pruning a frozen tree is, that it will not stand topping back to stubs as severely as in pruning for bad scale infestation.

"As a fruit grower, you will be interested in knowing that there may possibly be a two per cent. peach crop this year in this region, but I think not more than that."

LETTER FROM CANADA

Three-Inch Snow Fall on May 2—
Some Large Fields.

Davidson, Sask., Canada.

May 10, 1912.

We had a three inch fall of snow on the 2nd of May, and a few days prior to that date the thermometer registered 12 degrees above zero. It made me southerners shiver a little bit. It has been very wet here for a few days, but has cleared up now and the air is warm again.

Most people around are through sowing wheat. They sow all spring wheat here and are now preparing to sow oats and barley.

The soil in this part is a rich, black loam with a few stones scattered through it in places. It is very productive and will grow almost any crop providing the frost does not interfere. On the farm where I am working, we have one small patch of wheat, containing 300 acres, also 40 acres of oats. We have 10 horses, all Clydesdale breed.

The wages for farm labor range from $35 to $50 per month with board included.

The surface of the land is very level with no trees and only a few dwarf willows along the wet places. There are lots of wild prairies around here, on them can be found Indian graves, many buffalo bones, and the marks of the badger and coyote which still roam at large over the country. Very truly yours,

C. C. Sparks.

Transplanting Seedling Pear Trees

A correspondent in Eastern Pennsylvania wrote to State Zoologist Surface of Harrisburg asking about transplanting some seedling pear trees, and making them over into good trees. The reply was very practical although brief. It is as follows:

"It is quite possible to transplant them, and then you will have to graft them. It would be best to let them grow a year and then graft them after they are well started this season. The thorns indicate a certainty of their being natural seedlings or wild pears rather than improved varieties. Among the varieties that I would recommend you to use for grafting are the Bartlett, Seckel, Sheldon, Bosc and Winter Nelis.
